Greenhill News

This week's assembly, we discussed the importance of apology and taking responsibility for their actions. Understanding the value of a sincere apology is essential in promoting respect, empathy, and personal integrity. This approach aligns with the core British values of respect and responsibility, helping children develop positive relationships and contribute to a caring and supportive school community.

We would also like to extend our warmest wishes to those celebrating Eid, wishing you a happy and peaceful celebration.

Reminders

Greenhill Academy is a nut free school.
